

JOURNAL N°12 – “The Site, The Sweat, the Structure”

(Construction Site – ALICE Year 1 – [MAI 2025])

“We do not build the structure. The structure builds us.” — thought of the day

MATERIAL

Wood: raw, not yet aligned, already splintering
Screws: small but decisive
Bolts: cold, tight, resisting
Steel brackets: angles that hold more than weight
Structure: fragile at first, then proud

TOOLS

Gloves
screwdriver
Hammer
Patience

“Each tool extends the body. Each mistake narrows the team.”

GESTURE

Lift . Balance . Misalign . Measure . Correct . Carry . Level . Anchor.

REFLECTION

A construction site is not made of wood or metal. It is made of people in tension. Of decisions in the dust. Of errors made visible and where something real begins.
